NEW YORK ARTS HIGHLIGHTS

IN THE EMPIRE STATE, THE ARTS UNITE US

The Albany Symphony Orchestra's summer festivals along the Erie Canal bring together as many as 23,000 fans from diverse communities across the state, celebrating our industrial and artistic innovation.

THE NEW YORK STATE COUNCIL ON THE ARTS

The New York State Council on the Arts (NYSCA) preserves and expands the rich and diverse cultural resources that are the heritage of New York's citizens. NYSCA was established in 1960 through a bill introduced in the NY State Legislature by State Senator MacNeill Mitchell, with backing from Governor Nelson Rockefeller.

THE ARTS ARE EVERYWHERE

New York State has 10 Arts Regions with wonderful offerings:

- Western New York. Did you know Buffalo is a hotspot for NYS arts? Head to contemporary art haven AlbrightKnox Art, then, check out Frank Lloyd Wright's Darwin Martin House and hear JoAnn Falletta—the first female conductor of a major U.S. orchestra—conduct the Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra.
- Finger Lakes. Grab your camera and head to the George Eastman Museum, the world's oldest museum dedicated to photography. In September, head to the Rochester Fringe Festival, a showcase of 500+ events, many free, for nearly 80,000 fans
- Central New York. Visit the first museum to dedicate itself to the collection of American arts. The Everson Museum of Art is home to almost 11,000 works, which you can discover within an architectural wonder designed by I.M. Pei.

- Southern Tier. Try your hand at glassmaking at the Corning Museum of Glass, an international tourist destination which draws more than 500,000 annually to New York's Southern Tier.
- Mohawk Valley. Hear opera stars at the Glimmerglass Festival in Cooperstown on picturesque Lake Otsego – and while you're there, slow down with a taste of 19th century rural life at the nearby Farmers Museum.
- North Country. Jump right into the history of the American Revolution at Fort Ticonderoga, and admire your mountain surroundings at the Adirondack Experience.
- Capital Region. Listen to the Grammy-winning Albany Symphony Orchestra or stop by the Saratoga Performing Arts Center for their annual jazz festival.

- Hudson Valley. Take in 500 acres of modern an contemporary large-sculpture al fresco at Storm King Art Center in New Windsor, then catch a classic at the Hudson Valley Shakespeare Festival.
- Long Island. Get a jump on Oscar season at the Hamptons International Film Festival, then head to the Herzog & de Meuron-designed Parrish Art Museum to view modern and contemporary American art.
- New York City. Broadway lights are brighter than ever, with Second Stage's new Helen Hayes Theatre, a home for new American plays and diverse voices. Venture out of Manhattan for innovative fare at BAM or to Queens' Museum of the Moving Image.
